NOTES AND COMMENTS.

There is one command given in the Bible that few people obey and that is "be content with your wages." We doubt if there is an employee living who doesn't think he is worth more than he is getting.

All over the State and in a number of others ballots are falling today like snowflakes, recording, we hope, Democratic success all along the line.

A scientific paper says that 20 per cent. of the women are knock-kneed and a greater per cent. bow-legged. It may be so, but you cannot prove by us. We are from Missouri, too.

Speaking of biting off more than one can chew, a Baltimore man bit his mother-in-law. Now, what do you know about that?

A seat in the New York Stock Exchange sold last week for $41,000, when they used to command over $90,000. If this means a gradual extinction of the thriving concern, honest people will rejoice.

A 12 months' competition of hens at the Connecticut Agricultural College has just ended, the winner coming out with 267 eggs to her credit, worth $8.80 up there. She was a scrub and only cost 75 cents. This shows the advantage of a college education and proves that knowledge is power even with hens.

A Chicago woman jabbed a highway man with a hatpin, from the effects of which he died. For once the pin was as mighty as the sword.

It is stated that President Wilson wrote his great Mobile speech on his cuffs a few moments before delivery. It could not have been improved upon if he had burned the midnight oil for weeks.

Gov. Hadley, of Missouri, declined a $25,000 job in Chicago and those of us who have lived in the Windy City see where he is right.

An Ohio man was driven insane by the high cost of living. Many of the rest of us are losing our minds trying to figure how next month's grocery bill will be paid.

Parisian doctors have begun a crusade against women's veils, which they say are bad on the eyes and furnish a receptacle for microbes. As long as they hide ugliness and increase beauty such an argument will cut no figure.

Owing to the fact that neither the Republicans nor the Progressives could agree on candidates, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Virginia will be elected today without opposition. Henry C. Stuart, the nominee, would have been chosen anyway, but the condition is one that is most unusual.

A Marion, Ky., woman has just made restitution to the government for cancelled stamps used when a child. She is now old and the incident shows that while the lamp holds out to burn there is hope for the transgressor.

At this season of the year when taxes are crowding upon the people there is a general feeling of disgust for Caesar Augustus, who first decreed that all the world should be taxed. Luke 21. The trouble generally is we get so little for what we pay to support the government.

Wall Street seems to be terribly torn up over the income tax law, which will make the operators put up some of their ill-gotten gains. The street is usually torn up when an attempt is made to tear money from it.

While lecturing the post graduate class of Georgetown University, Dr. Conrad denounced public sympathy for criminals, who through mistaken sentiment are elected to places of power, when released. "Who was that in Kentucky who killed another and was sent to Congress?" Caleb Powers, who is taking a course and was sitting on a front seat, arose and said, "I am the man, doctor. I was not cullity." The doctor apologized, saying he did not know that Powers was a member of the class, but no apology seems necessary to a man who was three times convicted and once sentenced to be hanged, only escaping by the pardon of a partisan Governor.

Charles G. Gates, whose only claim to fame was that his father left him many millions, which he spent at the rate of a million a year, is dead. He ought to have had a good time, but it is doubtful if he enjoyed his mode of life. There are no pockets in a shroud and over the six feet of earth should be placed a stone with the inscription: "Here lies a fool who wasted his life, did no good for humanity and now pays the forfeit."

Boys' corn clubs, girls' tomato clubs and now boys' pig clubs under the encouraging auspices of the department of agriculture. This is a chance of reducing the high cost of living and get hold of some pin money.

The father of 21 children hanged himself at Dunkirk, N. Y. He seems to have waited too long to commit, feline se. Fifteen or twenty years ago would have been the time.

Mrs. Pankhurst doesn't seem to be such a bad woman after all. England just took her too seriously.

All returns from the income tax must be made under oath. But that won't cut much figure. The assessor makes you swear to the value of your property and a great many people perjure themselves.

Former Gov. Patterson, of Tennessee, predicts with all the fervor of the new convert that the saloon will be extinct in ten years. Maybe, but not because Patterson has reformed since being arrested in a bawdy drunk.

The Postoffice Department advertised for bids to carry the mails on a certain route in Alaska and got only one. As the route is over the northern mountains in midwinter and 500 miles at that, the wonder is that it got that one.

Statistics show that two men are killed by lightning to one woman, a refutation of the belief that death loves a shining mark.

Connecticut's Governor wants a statute enabling clergymen to regulate marriages. "Twont do. They might require you to believe in infant damnation, or that going down in the water doesn't mean immersion.

The Federal Bureau of Labor says that round steak has advanced in price more rapidly than sirloin. It looks like you just can't decrease the high cost of living except by not living at all.

In Memphis the other night a man on being unable to blow out the electric light, hid the bulb in a bureau drawer, and in Nashville a visitor wrapped a towel around a bulb to shut out the light. In the latter case the towel caught fire, and came near destroying the building. Tennessee's more dense than darkest Africa.

KIRKSVILLE.

J. T. Coy delivered to Matt Shearer, 58 cattle. The bunch brought $3,070.

Mrs. D. B. Willis and Miss Annie, left Tuesday to spend the winter with Mrs. Chas. Tudor in Texas.

Miss Dillian Cochran, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Louis Ross, has returned to her home in Lancaster.

Tobacco Barn Burned.

The tobacco and stock barn of Mrs. E. Tutt Burnam burned Friday night, causing a loss of $3,000, with $1,000 insurance. The barn was filled with tobacco belonging to Mr. E. A. Eubank. Mrs. Burnam was on a visit to her mother, Mrs. J. M. Kennedy, in Cincinnati. The fire fiend seems to pursue her. Her handsome residence burned about a year ago.

Preacher Hit By Stone.

Rev. Alfred A. Higgins, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Glasgow, while walking with a young lady, was hit with a rock, which tore a hole in his hat and glanced, striking the girl and wounding her on the arm. The man who threw the stone was arrested, but said that he was throwing at another party. Mr. Higgins is a son of Mr. W. H. Higgins, of Stanford.

Periclesian Notes.

(Normal School.)
The Periclesian Literary Society gave a delightful entertainment to its members Monday evening from 7 to 9:30 p. m. The hall was artistically decorated with pennants, autumn leaves and the society colors. Delightful refreshments were served.

The guitar music furnished by Prof. Koch and the readings by Misses Patridge and Hurst was greatly appreciated.

The following advisors and critics of the other societies were present: Mrs. Deane and Mr. Nichol—Carpe diem; Miss Voorries—Utopia; Prof. Clark Hull and Mr. Davidson—Cynthian; Miss Bertram—Excelsior.

Other invited guests were: Mrs. Clark Hull, Misses Patridge, Hurst and Allen; Messrs. Kirk and Brandenburg.

In the Banner Contest the Periclesian leads. So far there has not been an absence. This is indeed a remarkable record.

J. R. Shearer, a Periclesian, won first honors on the gridiron Monday in the game against Paris High School.

Week of Prayer.

The Missionary Bulletin, published by the Board of Missions, M. E. Church, South, has the following announcement in its November issue:

"November 3 to 10 is to be the season of prayer and thanksgiving for the Woman's Missionary Societies this year.

"Remember it is to be a united observance of both Home and Foreign Departments.

"Remember the collections are to go toward building the Lucinda Helm Chapel, at London, Ky., and the enlargement of Bruce Hall, at Ruth Hargrove Institute, Key West, Fla."

In accordance with this decree, The Woman's Missionary Society, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will hold their prayer services at the church at 3 p. m., each afternoon during this week.

We extend an invitation to the ladies of other churches to meet with us.

Special Mattress Sale

On the Celebrated
Come See them in our Windows

We have arranged for a Special Sale

On the celebrated Stearns & Foster Mattress and are offering this most Comfortable, Durable and Sanitary of all Mattresses, in selected patterns of the best qualities of Satin-finish, Dust-proof Tickings—WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE.

Beware of so-called "Special Sales" on "Cotton-felt" or "Felt" Mattresses—said to be the "genuine kind" and offered at such ridiculously low prices as are sometimes seen displayed. You do not know WHAT sort of material has been hastily STUFFED into the ticking. From a Sanitary standpoint, it may be vile; unfit for any person to sleep upon. As for genuine Comfort and Durability, such Mattresses are utterly worthless. It don't pay to buy them.

Stearns & Foster Mattresses have a laced opening (Pat. applied for) through which you can see and examine the inside of the Mattress you GET. That's the safe way to buy a Mattress. You know what you are getting.

Stearns & Foster Mattresses are made of Clean, Sanitary Cotton; felted into hundreds of little webs forming many Springy. Buoyant layers standing nearly three feet high. These layers are then LAID BY HAND and compressed to ONE-SIXTH their original height and encased in the ticking; then tufted to just the proper tension so as to be Soft, yet Firm, half yielding to your figure, but supporting it in perfect relaxation.

You will say—

"I never Knew a Mattress could be so Comfortable."

That's just what satisfied users of Stearns & Foster Mattresses are saying. You owe it to yourself to get one and enjoy rest that is Refreshing—Comfortable—Healthful.

You don't have to be put to the expense and inconvenience of sending a Stearns & Foster Mattress away to be "Made Over" or "Renovated." They never require it. An occasional Sun Bath keeps them fresh and clean.

Don't Fail to attend this Sale. Come today.

Select the Mattress you want—NOW. Don't put up longer with that old uncomfortable Mattress.

A Comfortable Night's Rest on a Stearns & Foster,
Costs too Little.

We'll give you a POSITIVE GUARANTEE on every Mattress bearing the Stearns & Foster name.

NOVEMBER 4, 1913

A GREAT MENACE.

People who observe such things see the evidences, many and pronounced, that the New York Stock Exchange is making to force the National Government by forcing down the prices of stocks, even in the face of improved conditions and increased earnings of the corporations involved. It is and has been doing for months all it can to restore the Republicans to power, often using Democratic papers to aid the effort. For instance, in the middle of a stock letter from a prominent broker there appeared in the Democratic papers of Sunday this sentence: "There seems probable that a preponderance of Republican successes at the polls will be taken as denoting a return to sobriety on the part of the electors, but on the other hand successes in other directions might be misconstrued." Further along in the dispatch reference is made to Wilson's so-called Mexican policy: with slurs upon it.

People in the rural districts know very little about it, but there is no greater menace to the country than the New York Stock Exchange, and it would be a beneficial thing if it were entirely abolished. It has been a custom to force the Republican administration to comply with its demands until it seems to think that it owns the country, but it will find that it is barking up the wrong tree when it gets after President Wilson. He will snap his fingers at it and defy their threat of panic. How an institution which has always played the game of "heads I win tails you lose" could have existed so long is explicable only on the hypothesis that a sucker is born every minute to supply the coin to which they usually bid farewell forever.

That the concern is not the paying institution that it once was and that people are getting wise to its doings, is shown by the fact that a year or so ago seats in the charmed circle of swindlers sold for over $92,000. Last week one sold for $14,000 and the time may come if suckers cease to grow that seats may go a-begging. One reason that such a business flourishes is that men rarely tell of their losses, no matter how large, but they are sure to brag about their profits and that induces others to try the game, which is all vanity and vexation of spirit.

The Cincinnati Enquirer is authority for the statement that Dr. E. B. Dishman will likely be appointed U. S. Marshal for the Eastern district of Kentucky, to succeed the Republican incumbent. We do not believe it. If as charged Dishman and other leading members of his family signed Caleb Powers' petition for pardon, he is entitled to no recognition from Democrats, who do not believe that assassination is a proper method of settling a political dispute. The further damaging charge is made that Dr. Dishman contributed money to aid Judge Fleming D. Sampson, a law partner of Powers, in his election, the man who is now under impeachment charges to come before the next Legislature. This too in face of the fact that Sampson's opponent was a Democrat.

The Enquirer states one fact in connection with the marshalship and that is that Col. John R. Gibson, of this city, is the choice of the anti-Dishman people for the position, and he is stronger in the Eleventh district than Dishman. Col. Gibson was born in Clay county and has relatives in half a dozen others in the Eleventh district counties. He is besides a true Democrat and well qualified for the office. Madison county has about a fourth as many Democrats as the whole of the Eleventh district and none of her citizens has been honored by the Democratic Administration. The powers that be would make a master stroke by giving the appointment to a Democrat against whom no charges can be made.

THERE is a law in Massachusetts prohibiting under severe penalty the selling of cold storage eggs, unless they are so marked, and the board of health is enforcing it. Such a law ought to prevail everywhere. The purchaser has a right to know what kind of eggs he is buying, whether this year's, last year's or some other year's vintage. Like eating the food stool for mushrooms, if it kills you it is food stool and if it does not it is mushrooms, so are cold storage eggs. You can't tell them till you eat them, and the difference is almost as marked as that between the fresh article and ex-celsior.

Efforts are being made to indict the impeached Governor of New York, William Sulzer, for perjury, of which he seems guilty. A term in the penitentiary would better fit his case than a term in the Legislature.

Los Angeles has just completed an aqueduct that will supply the city with water from the Sierras, 200 miles away, and tomorrow and next day there will be a celebration of the event and a dedication of a $500,000 fountain to commemorate it. The aqueduct has been building eight years and is a triumph of engineering skill. It is capable of delivering 200,000,000 gallons of water every 24 hours and the cost is over $25,000,000. Los Angeles is getting to be one of the great cities of the world and is determined not to suffer a water famine again as in 1905.

Gov. BLEAKE, of South Carolina, is in Washington and as usual exhibiting his assiduity. He says he is a Democrat, but is ashamed that such a man as Wilson is President. The country returns the compliment and is ashamed that a great State with the traditions of South Carolina has so greatly deteriorated as to have such a man for Governor, who is said to stand a good show of being elected U. S. Senator. The State certainly has fallen on evil times when such a buffoon may be able to succeed such men as Calhoun, Wade Hampton and other great statesmen.

Affairs are coming to a focus with Mexico. The State Department has issued an ultimatum to President Huerta through Charge O'Shaughnessy, telling him he must resign the Presidency of Mexico without loss of time, and that he must not leave as his successor Gen. Blanquet or any other member of his official family. This means a breakdown or a fight by Huerta. Let us hope that it will be the former.

If there is a town that does not need another newspaper it is Bowling Green, with its three dailies, but of the starting of newspapers, like the making of books, there is no end. A weekly paper is to be launched in the capital of Warren in a few days. The owner may be able to make buckie and tongue meet, but we are from the State just across the Mississippi.

When it is all over the editor of the Louisville Herald will probably reflect on what an ass he made of himself during the canvass for so little purpose.

The young people at Waco celebrated Hallow'een night with a fox hunt, about thirty five enjoying the sport. Late in the night a camp-fire was made, around which a delicious lunch was served.

Misses Mary and Carrie Allman were at home to a number of friends on Friday evening. The guests came masked, and the refreshments and decorations carried out the Hallow'een idea.

A lovely entertainment on Hallow'een night was the "Tacky Party," given by Misses Margaret and Alma Lackey and Mr. Miller Lackey, at their beautiful country home near Kingston. A number of the guests remained until Sunday, when they enjoyed a chestnut hunt in the mountains.

The Kitchen and Dining-room Shower given by the ladies of the First Christian church, Friday evening, was a lovely entertainment of the week. The assembly room of the church was beautifully decorated in things suggestive of Hallow'een, and during the evening coffee, chocolate and sandwiches were served.

A number of Richmond men, mostly members of Mr. Turley's Bible class of the Christian church, motored to Winchester, Sunday, to attend the rally held at the First Christian Church Sunday School of that city. Stomach Out of Order? Belching Gas.

And Sour Food? Want to Relieve It?

Trying to think what upset your stomach or what it was you ate that caused the trouble? Listen! If your stomach is giving you trouble, if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps, your head dizzy and aches, belch gases, heartburn, breath foul, tongue coated—then take a PEPSINAD Tablet and in a few minutes the trouble will disappear. It's needless to have a bad stomach—a PEPSINAD Tablet taken occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated—try it, and eat your favorite food with relish and without fear.

Fine Feathers at Lexington Opera House.
It is so seldom that playgoers outside Broadway have an opportunity to see a genuine original cast of stars, that the announcement of the coming of "Fine Feathers," with its wonderful array of dramatic talent, to the Lexington Opera House for two special performances, matinee and evening, Monday, Nov. 10, requires a repetition of the fact that local audiences will see the same performance as that which charmed New York and Chicago for an entire season. The cast still includes the names of Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Elgin, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson, Lydia Dickson, and all the others who participated in the play's metropolitan triumph.

"Fine Feathers" is from the pen of Eugene Walter, author of such big successes as "Paid in Full," "The Easiest Way," "The Wolf," and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," and critics have pronounced his newest effort to be also his best. He has written a big play dealing with familiar conditions in the home and world of business, and his characters are easily recognized types of men and women. He has written a number of big, vital parts, with these stars in view, and every line and scene is given full value. It is a liberal education in dramatic art to see these masters of the acting art playing together. This is first instance of an all-star cast being sent out on the road intact, and those familiar with matters theatrical, can imagine the perfect performance resulting from these players appearing in the tremendous scenes and overwhelming climaxes provided by Eugene Walter's brilliant pen. Only a few more important cities are to see the original production of "Fine Feathers," and this is one of them.

The sale of seats for the engagement begins Friday morning, November 7th, at the Box office at the Opera House. Orders for seats sent to Manager Scott will receive prompt attention. Prices range from 50c to $2.

Smallpox at Irvine.
The Irvine Public school has had to close on account of the small-pox. F. J. Stevens, Circuit court clerk, and two of his little daughters, and Early Downard and Allen Stevens, flagmen on the L. & A. railroad, are the victims of the disease, which is said to be of a light form.

Gov. McCreary on Hand.
Governor McCreary, looking better and younger than ever, came home to vote, and this morning delivered a speech on "Kentucky's in the War of 1812; Our Country Then and Now," to the Normal College students and the public. It was a fine effort, full of historical facts, and greatly enjoyed by the large crowd present. The Caldwell High School was present in full.

Democrats Will Win In Lexington.
The Lexington Leader in big headlines says that the Fusion ticket will be elected there to day. It is hard to tell whether the paper is honestly mistaken or is trying the boosting game. To a man up a tree, there there seems nothing so sure as that Judge Bullock and the admirable ticket of the Democrats will be elected.

Normal Wins.
The Kentucky Wesleyan Foot ball team came over from Winchester yesterday to play the Eastern Normal team, but when the score stood 14 to 12, a decision of Referee Chandler was overruled by Prof. Keith and Dr. Zinke, when the Wesleyans refused to play further and the game was forfeited to Normal 1 to 0.

All Signs Democratic.
A fairer, balmy day never came in melancholy November than today, and if the Democrats do not win all along the line it won't be because of the weather, far usually meaning Democratic success. As the Climax goes to press at 3 p. m., a good vote is being polled in Richmond with every indication that the Democratic ticket will win by a large majority.

Hon. Harvey Helm III.
His many friends will regret to learn that Congressman Harvey Helm is quite ill at his apartments here, being threatened with a serious ailment. Mr. Helm came from Washington last week, and his friends noticed that he appeared considerably thinner than his wont, but attributed it to the hard work he has been doing during the special session of congress, which is still under way.—Interior Journal.

A Mammoth Sunday School.
Mr. R. E. Turley's Sunday school class of the First Christian church, or as many as could go—some fifty odd, went to Winchester Sunday in ten automobiles, on invitation of the Christian Church Sunday school of that city. They swelled the number of pupils to 1,447, and the collection for the day was $603.02. The men's Bible class of D. L. Pendleton and R. C. Prewitt occupied the main auditorium of the Winchester church, and 680 men were in attendance. The contest was between the Winchester school and the one at Rushville, Ind., as to which would have the largest number of pupils and amount of collections that day, and Rushville won with 1,538, and $780 collected. Winchester won on new pupils, having 243; Rushville's 218. The Richmond visitors were invited to lunch and shown many courtesies. The return was made via Lexington and the party, after a very pleasant day, returned home about dark.

Will be the subject of Rev. E. B. Barnes' sermon at the Christian church next Sunday night. Be sure to hear a lively discussion.

DEATHS
Oliver Mitchell, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mitchell, of this city, died of diphtheria and was buried in Richmond Cemetery Saturday.

Death From Natural Causes.
Kate Mason, a colored woman, who was stabbed in the back about two weeks ago by another negro, died yesterday the doctors say of asthma, and not of the wound.

Wills Probated.
In the county court yesterday, the wills of Mr. Rufus P. McCord and Mr. Harvey Cobb were admitted to probate. Mr. J. Tevis Cobb was named as executor of each. The former leaves all of property to his daughter, Mrs. C. W. Howard, of Washington State, and the latter divides up his property among his children.

Opera House Tonight.

Thursday Raftch Life and Miller Brothers' Ranch in Oklahoma. Friday night, in three reels, Miller Bros. 101 Wild West and Circus. Saturday night the big show, four reels, including the Kay-Bee feature, "Our Silent Heroes." Admission 10 cents.

The Fall Term
Of the circuit court ended Saturday, after being in session four weeks. During the term four men were sent to the penitentiary—George Fox, for burglarizing the house of L. W. Hunter, four years; Eunice Mason, negro, chicken stealing, one to five years; Oscar Saunders, white, grand larceny, one to five years. There was no demonstration over the acquittal of Brack Maupin, as published in some of the dailies.

Capt. Richardson at Home.
Editor W. Vernon Richardson, clerk of a Senate committee and secretary to Senator Ollie M. James, is at Danville vote. Capt. Richardson is principal owner of the Advocate, to which he sends letters from Washington daily, which make decided feature for the paper. He had not been home since the Presidential inauguration till now, as his chief was kept continually busy and required his services.

Passing Quietly.
If the election elsewhere is like it is Richmond today the stereotyped expression "the election passed off quietly" will be in order again. It looked more like Sunday than election day.

E. C. Walton Coming.
Mr. E. C. Walton, part owner of this paper, now owning and operating the Orlando, Fla. Reporter-Star, will arrive today to see after his interests here.

Very Quiet.
The police had an easy time Saturday night and Sunday, having to make only two arrests. They were for drunkenness and the victims were let off with $1 fine each and costs.

Endorsed in Lexington.
Col. John R. Gibson was in Lexington a few days ago and came home proud of the endorsements he received there for United States Marshal. Nearly all of prominent politicians and officials wrote flattering letters to Senator Ollie James hoping that he would have him appointed.

Came Home to Vote.
Besides Governor McCreary and Bank Commissioner T. J. Smith who came from Frankfort to vote, T. J. Coates rural school superintendent, Victor V. Packwood, stenographer, Charles Rogers, J. H. Kennedy and T. M. Wells, prison guards, also came. Honorable mention is also made of Larkin Blythe, Governor McCreary's colored coachman, who came to vote the Democratic ticket.

Extra Special To-Night!
AT THE ALHAMBRA.
Kalem presents Manager McGraw, Christy Mathewson and other famous New York Giant stars in "Breaking In to the Big League." You remember the World's Series; now is your chance to see some of the Big League stars. In addition to this big feature "The Gentlemen of Fashion," a Vitaphone comedy, will be shown.

New Train on Q. & C.
"The Royal Palm" from Chicago to Jacksonville, reputed as the finest train traversing Southern territory, passed over the Q. & C. Monday. The equipment of the new train is up-to-date in every detail and represents the highest and latest developments in train service. On the trip the patronage was far greater than expected and officials of the road were enthusiastic over their new enterprise.

Missionary Conference.
In this city, Nov. 13th and 14th, will be held a conference of all the churches in our city, led by Rev. D. Clay Lilly, and other prominent specialists and laymen from a distance. The purpose is to arouse a greater interest in every department of church activity. The sessions will be held day and night, and will be in the lecture room of the Christian church. All Christian people will receive much inspiration from these meetings, and are most cordially urged to be present at every session. None are excluded, as these meetings appeal to every class of people, to those who church members as well as those who are great men on great subjects. It is hoped that people of every faith will give themselves to the success of this movement while it is in Richmond, and inspire the workers to do more for the advancement of the Kingdom than ever. Keep the dates in mind.

The Prandennial Club.
The last meeting of the Club was at the residence of Rev. E. B. Barnes, and after dinner the subject for the evening "The Streets of Richmond and how to Improve Them," was taken up and discussed by the class, which was composed of Messrs. Herrington, Turley and A. R. Burnam, Jr. It was agreed by all present, following the lead of the speakers, that our streets could be improved, but no one was informed as to what material should be used that would give the greatest satisfaction. It is well known that the macadamized road is soon crumbled into dust which blows everywhere, and that scarcely any amount of sprinkling can suffice to keep the streets in a condition that will relieve the menace of the dust in dry weather and of mud in wet weather. Paving by brick or cressote blocks is expensive, but has given satisfaction in many places. A comparison with cities of the same class as Richmond revealed the fact that while our street area was greater than theirs, our streets would hear favorable comparison. The next meeting will be held with Mr. Warfield Bennett the second Friday in the month. A full attendance is desired.

YARN FROM JIM BENNET

By J. C. PLUMMER.

Adler's Collection Clothes Suits and Overcoats $15 to $25

"I don't often tell this yarn," said Jim, "for the reason that I don't like being thought of as a liar. If a man calls me one I know what to do, but when he thinks I'm one I can't have a reason for plugging 'im. But here's the yarn: The Phoebe Clement was bound, in ballast, from Boston to Savannah where she would load lumber for the La Plata. When we made our last quays at Cape Cod the wind was fair nor-west and it kept in that quarter until we were off Long Island then it came out strong from the north-east."

Capt. Snow was a good navigator and he handled that bark under close reefed topsails as well as any man could, but he had a most unreasonable craft in the Phoebe Clement. She never wanted to do anything that was asked of her.

The skipper had brought his little son with him on this voyage. He was a taut little kid and all of us were fond of him. The captain had lost his wife and this little boy was the apple of his eye.

It was just at dusk and things were despit with us when I saw a great green wave rolling down on us from windward. I shout a warning and jumps into the fore rigging. The men in the waist saved themselves by grabbing whatever'd hold 'em fast, but the man at the wheel went over the rail as the bark heeled down the shock of that mighty wave. The skipper was clinging to the backstay but when he saw the man at the wheel go over he sprang for the spokes. Some how he missed his hold and in a minute he was banged against the cabin house and swept over it into the sea.

Stowman ran to the wheel and we slid down from the rigging and began cutting and slashing at the mess of tangle of ropes which held the spars to the vessel's side.

"Where's the skipper?" whispered the mate, to me.

"He's gone overboard," I replied, in a low voice.

"What in God's name are we going to do?" muttered the mate.

"Why rig a storm sail in the main," sung out Stowman, "for God's sake do something to try save our lives."

The mate gave the order. "It's no good," he muttered, "the drift and the wind are too much for us."

We bent the sail but it did no good; we were steadily going on the shoals. Stowman had left the wheel and I had taken his place. The mate, scared to death, was crouching in the lee of the cabin house and the others were forrard.

Dark as it was I recognized the skipper.

"I thought you were drowned," I gasped.

He didn't answer but commenced to put the wheel to starboard.

"My God, skipper," I cried, "you're putting her ashore. This isn't a fore and after."

He never said a word.

I noticed that he was steering with his left hand and that the bark was answering to the helm for the first time since she had gotten in the drift. Stowman came aft.

"Who's that at the wheel?" he asked me.

"Cap'n Snow," I answered, "and he's steering plumb ashore."

"Then he wasn't washed over?" said Stowman.

"I saw him go over the rail," said I, staring at the figure at the wheel.

With the helm hard as a starboard the bark went straight for the breakers and I held my breath waitin' for her to strike.

Then the skipper shot the spokes to sport and the wind lulled. It came again in about three minutes and dead from north-west.

The skipper waved his hand towards the masts but said not a word. I understood him and ran forrard. The others were sailors, all, and they had already begun to bend a sail to the stump of the foremast so as to help the old hooker out of the pickle.

The sail filled and the vessel slowly wore away from the westland.

Suddenly the bark lost the wind and I ran aft. No one stood at the wheel.

"Skipper," I called, and I began to turn cold.

I grabbed the wheel and brought the bark to the wind all the time looking around for the skipper. I cried out for Stowman and when he came aft I asked him to take the wheel and went down into the cabin.

I opened the captain's stateroom and there that little kid was sound asleep just as calm as if he had a been in his crib ashore.

Now, boys, you heard me say the skipper was a sterlin' with his left hand and when his body was washed ashore they found his right arm broken.

"Who was it at der wheel?" asked Hans.

"It was the skipper's spirit come to save his little boy," replied Jim.

A Reporter Reports a Fire.

This is the way a young reporter for the Lexington Leader wrote up a fire, which damaged an automobile $50.00 worth, and was caused by an overheated exhaust pipe:

The Lexington fire department, with automobile hose truck, snorting its noisy warning, the swift car of the chief gliding through traffic like a red meteor, the elongated ladder truck like a prostrate skyscraper on wheels, tore through the traffic on Short street Saturday afternoon in answer to an alarm from Broadway and Main street, in the heart of the business district, and in a neighborhood full of tall buildings which spell danger to the fire fighter.

"As the charge of the red brigade swept through the streets, grim-faced men hurriedly donned helmets and rubber coats, and careening dangerously on the lofty perch of the driver's seat, a shirt-sleeved fireman yanked viciously at the bell cord.

"Twenty minutes later the victorious fire fighters returned majestically up the street, proudly bearing the baughty air of victors triumphant.

The chief, still wearing the mediaeval helmet of the feudal man-at-arms, strode into his office and wrote upon the imperishable archives of many hand-to-hand struggle with the fire fiend, the succinct record of the latest victory of his brave crew."

"Yes, and I want to say 'No' and get it over with!"

Facts About The Tax.

All incomes are to be computed by the calendar year, but taxes for the first year will be levied only from March 1, 1913, to December 31 next. Notification of assessments will be sent out by the Government before June 1 next. Taxes must be paid by June 30. Failure to file a return means a fine of from $2 to $1,000. A fraudulent return makes the taxpayer liable to a fine of $2,000 or imprisonment for a year, or both. The man whose income tax is withheld by his employer must file an affidavit by February 1 with the employer or the internal revenue collector in claiming deductions. All holders of corporate bonds must file by the same date a statement in writing claiming exemptions from the tax if it is not to be deducted from interest payments.

Neuritis Follows Crippled Nerves.

PAINFUL EFFECTS OF CHRONIC RHEUMATISM QUICKLY ROUTED BY RHEUMA.

If your nerves are all crippled from attacks of Rheumatism, Neuritis can easily get a strong hold on the nerves. This most painful disease is one of the hardest known to expel, but RHEUMA can reach it if given a chance. This testimony is positive proof:

"Last March I was so crippled with Neuritis in my left limb I could walk scarcely at all. Tried all remedies I heard of and had two physicians. Nothing did me any good until I used RHEUMA. After six days my Rheumatism and Neuritis—$2.00 worth of my medicine cured me."—Mrs. C. E. Hayes, Russell, Ky.

The Lane of Life.

A babyhood of wailing.

Of every infant ailing.

Of safety pins

And blinking grins

And squaking unavailing.

A childhood full of playing.

A time of barefoot Maying.

A mother there

To watch and care

And keep your feet from straying.

A youth of passion burning.

All sager counsel spurning;

A journey feet

Along the street

That knows no more returning.

Old age with illness coping.

Old age no longer hoping;

One fleeting breath;

From birth to death

And after that—the groping.

—Wm. F. Kirk.

The Glooms.

If you are waiting

For that beef

From Argentine

To bring relief

Against your gnawing

Appetite

You might as well

Tell hope good night.

—Houston Post.
